President’s Column

“Independence Day in January?”

Holiday greetings to all, and best wishes for a peaceful, productive, and happy 1997. In the midst of the end of term craziness, the imminence of the AHA conference, and pressing deadlines for manuscripts, grants, and job applications, please take a little time to relax and remember what drew you to the calling of history in the first place. Even in the challenging circumstances that many of us face these days, we can still find ways to sustain ourselves doing the work we love.

It is true that people in the humanities, and maybe historians in particular, confront difficult prospects for employment—a situation that already affects a large proportion of PhDs and looms for many current graduate students. The most recent OAH Newsletter, for instance, tackled the issue of adjunct faculty, some of whom work as many as four or five course-by-course jobs simultaneously and barely make a living. The gulf between those with tenure and those not even on tenure track widens, and historians no longer see themselves as members, however contentious, of the same team. But perhaps hardest of all is the feeling expressed by one of the people interviewed—that adjunct faculty do not really “belong,” whether to an institution, a group of colleagues, or even the profession itself anymore.

What can be done about this?

Actually, we can do a lot, and belonging is at the heart of most of the options. As an adjunct, grad student, independent scholar, or almost anyone deep in a writing project, it is very easy to begin feeling invisible, even to yourself. So make yourself visible and become part of other people’s awareness. How? Join a writers’ group and critique each other’s work. Find out if the local historical society or public library has a lecture series and volunteer to present your research. Perhaps most effectively of all, join an organization that represents your interests, simultaneously providing a sense of belonging and a means to work for change.

There are many such organizations, including unions, but let me recommend two that I know about. The first is the National Coalition of Independent Scholars (NCIS). At our spring conference at the Huntington Library, Joanne Lafler challenged those of us who were not “dependent scholars” (that is, employed full-time, tenure track, at four-year institutions) to identify ourselves proudly as independent scholars. After all, independents of every stripe, including adjunct faculty, do not enjoy the institutional support available to those so employed, and yet, we are still serious scholars. We need to emphasize what we accomplish, not what we don’t have. So set aside demoralizing labels like part-time, adjunct, and so on, and come out forthrightly as an independent scholar. But don’t just call yourself that. Join with others who are fighting the same good fight by becoming a member of the NCIS. NCIS has worked to win access to collections and to dozens-of-funding sources for independent scholars. It helps sustain scores of local independent scholars, making the wider community aware of all we achieve.

The second organization is our own. Presumably, if you are reading this newsletter, you are already a member, but you can enhance the value of your membership by becoming more actively involved. For instance, plan to attend our annual conference at Asilomar, May 30-June 1, 1997. There you will observe not only the high quality of the scholarship produced by our members, but also something much harder to find—a norm of mutual respect, encouragement, and truly constructive criticism.

(Continued on Page 2)
President's Column (Continued from Page 1)

I always come away from these meetings wondering why life can't always be like that. Consider submitting your work for one of our prizes (see the announcements elsewhere in this newsletter) or offering to serve on a committee next year. And, of course, make sure you remain a member by sending your dues for 1997 to membership secretary Carol Gold, using the membership form in the newsletter (please do it now, since membership runs from January 1 through December 31; dues are tax deductible as a professional expense). In the interests of collegiality, you might even want to give a membership to a friend or co-worker; it's almost certainly a more useful present than more stuff.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Still no new logo. If you have any suggestions, please send them, photo ready!

Yet a third means of belonging to the profession is serving it. Obviously you can do this in many ways, but let me do a bit of special pleading. I recently became part of the editorial staff of the Pacific Historical Review, which is in the process of moving from UCLA, where it has thrived since its founding in the 1930s, to Portland State University. This transition has brought the excitement and trepidation of acquiring a new house or a new baby, as we on the staff try to clarify a vision of how the review may evolve under our stewardship. But one thing is already clear. We are eager to expand the pool of authors, book reviewers, and article referees who will participate in this evolution. So please contact us if your field of study involves the history of American expansionism to the Pacific and beyond, the post-frontier development of the twentieth-century American West, or the international dimension of Western U.S. history; send your vita to Pacific Historical Review, 487 Cramer Hall, Portland State University, Portland, Oregon 97207-0751 or contact us by e-mail at phr@pdx.edu. The editors, David A. Johnson and Carl Abbott, will also be available to talk with you at the OAH convention in San Francisco next April (check the University of California Press booth at the booth exhibit). Becoming part of this team lets you belong to a group of colleagues far bigger than any department.

Before all the responsibilities of the new year start piling up again, let's give ourselves the luxury of a few moments to remember what we love about the study of history, what first drew us and keeps bringing us back. There's the treasure to sustain us through the coming year.

Susan Wladavar-Morgan, President
WAWH

New Members

Lucy Barber, U.C. Davis
Juhana Barr, Univ of Wisc., Madison
DeAnna E. Beachley, Community College of Southern Nevada
Shaaron Cosner, Tempe, AZ
Ruth Crocker, Auburn University
Kate Davis, Hayward, CA
Cindy B. Derrow, NYU
Mara Dodge, Univ. of Illinois, Chicago
Barbara Dunsheath, Long Beach City College
Nadja Durbach, Johns Hopkins
Carol S. Grieben, William Paterson College, NJ
Linda Hedrick, Art History, UCLA
Gaynol Langs, Independent Scholar
Lectura Long, Univ. of Nevada, Reno
Suzanne L. Martin, Whitman College, WA
Jane Morrison, UCB
Cynthia E. Orozco, Center for Regional Studies, Univ. New Mexico, Albuquerque
Willa Z. Silverman, Penn State University
Colleen Stitt, ASU, Tempe
Debra Sutphen, Washington State University

Membership in the Western Association of Women Historians runs on a calendar year basis. 1997 dues are due as of Jan. 1, 1997. We would appreciate it if you would pay these dues now, thus saving us from having to remind you later. Thank you! (Other than the yearly conference, membership dues are our only other source of revenue, which pays for the newsletter & other mailings)
Susan G. Butruille’s Women’s Voices from the Western Frontier was named a finalist in the 1996 Oregon Book Awards. Congratulations!!

A biographical dictionary, American Women Historians, 1700s-1990s by Jennifer Scanlon and Shaaron Cosner (member) has been published by Greenwood Publishing Group, Inc.

Betty Dessants, Assistant Professor of History at Florida State University, has published “Ambivalent Allies: OSS’ USSR Division, The State Department, and the Bureaucracy of Intelligence Analysis, 1941-45,” in Intelligence and National Security 11:4 (Oct. 1996). She also received a grant from the Air Force Historical Research Agency to investigate the connections between the Air Force and Harvard University’s Soviet specialists in the early 1950s. In addition to her position at FSU, she is currently a Project Scholar with the OSS Oral History Project sponsored by the CIA’s Center for the Study of Intelligence.

On behalf of WAWH I want to extend our heartfelt sympathy to Tanis Thorne for the tragic loss of her daughter, Cody this past year.

J. B
Deadlines and Data

AWAH Awards and Prizes 1997

Each of the following awards is granted at the annual conference of the Western Association of Women Historians. Applicants for these awards must be members of WAWH at the time of submission (beginning with the 1997 awards, all applicants will need to have been members for two years). The deadline for all of these awards is February 15, 1997. Membership information may be obtained from the Secretary, Chris Gold, Department of History, University of Alaska, Fairbanks, AK 99775.

Sierra Book Prize The WAWH will award the 1997 Sierra Prize ($250) for the best monograph in the field of history published by a WAWH member. Eligibility for the prize is limited to two groups: those residing in California, Oregon, Washington, Hawaii, Alaska, Idaho, Utah, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, Montana, Texas, or Oklahoma; and WAWH members residing in other states who have paid membership for three years (not necessarily consecutive years). The book must be a monograph based on original research (not an anthology or edited work); the prize is open to all fields of history. Please send a letter of intent and three copies of the book to: Dr. Angel Kwolek-Folland, Dept. of History, University of Kansas, Lawrence, KS 66045. (913) 864-3569/e-mail: Holosehed @Falcon.cc.ukans.edu.

Judith Lee Ridge Article Prize The WAWH will award the 1997 Judith Lee Ridge Article Prize ($100) for the best article in the field of history published by a WAWH member. The article must have been published in 1995 or 1996. All fields of history will be considered, and submissions must include full scholarly apparatus. Please send inquiries and three copies to Dr. Florence Baker, 1256 Alameda Ave., Glendale, CA 91201. (818) 563-1181/e-mail: 74511.2664@compuserve.com.

Barbara Penny Kanner Award The WAWH will award the 1997 Barbara Penny Kanner Award ($500) to the best scholarly bibliographical and historical guide to research focused on Women’s or Gender history. The award is intended to promote the practice of biblio-methodology and to reflect the critical tools of the historian’s craft as they have been developed to provide research guides. Book-length submissions are preferred, but substantial guides in other forms (articles or book chapters) may also be considered. For further information and application, please contact Dr. Candace Falk, 912 Mendocino Ave., Berkeley, CA 94709. (509) 526-9591 e-mail: emma@uclink.berkeley.edu.

Graduate Student Fellowship The WAWH will award the 1997 Graduate Student Fellowship ($1,000) to a graduate student, advanced to candidacy, who is writing a dissertation at the time of application, and is expecting to receive the Ph.D. no earlier than December of the calendar year in which the award is made. For further information and application forms, please contact Dr. Louis Huneycutt, 628 Huntridge Drive, Columbia, MO 65201. (314) 442-2890.

Grants

Research Grants available 1996-1997: for original research and writing leading to interpretive works on the history of Minnesota by academicians, independent scholars, and professional and non-professional writers. Application deadlines during the year are September 1, January 2, and April 1; awards are announced by November 1, March 1, and June 1. For a copy of the Research Grants Program Information and Guidelines and an Application Form, write to Deborah L. Miller, Research Department, Minnesota Historical Society, 345 Kellogg Blvd. West, St. Paul, MN 55102 or call Florence Regan at 612-297-2221.

Conferences

The Second National Women in Historic Preservation Conference, March 13-15, 1997. Sponsored by the Women’s Studies Program and the Graduate Program in Public History at Arizona State University, and by the National Park Service. For more info write to Arizona State University, Women’s Studies Program, P.O. Box 871801, Tempe, AZ 85287-1801.

Deadlines & Data (continued from page 4)

Notable Women Display Sets

What do Georgia O'Keeffe, Harriet Tubman, and Susan B. Anthony have in common? Or Maxine Hong Kingston, Anne Hutchinson, and Mary McLeod Bethune? They're all in the "Notable Women" photo display sets created by the National Women's History Project. The "Notable Women" photo display is available through the National Women's History Project for just $14.95 each, plus $4 s/h. To order these sets, or for a free Women's History Catalog, contact the NWHP at 7738 Bell Road, Dept. P, Windsor, CA 95492-8518, or (707) 838-6000.

Call for Papers

Women and Fundamentalism: Perspectives on the New Religious Politics

The Journal of Women's History is soliciting essays for a special issue on women and the politics of religion. For more info, write to: Fundamentalism, Issue, Journal of Women's History c/o Department of History The Ohio State University 230 W. 17th Ave., Columbus, OH 43210

For more details on submission policy, email jwh@osu.edu or see the Notice to Contributors page in any issue of the Journal of Women's History. The deadline for submissions is Sept. 1, 1997

Job Openings

Women's Studies/Chicana/o Studies, Assistant Professor, Tenure-Track, California State University, Northridge. The Chicana/o Studies Department, one of the oldest and largest in the U.S., offers a full range of courses in Chicana/o culture, history, literature, sociology, and politics, with a major and an MA in Chicana/o Studies. The Women's Studies Department offers a minor and plans a major. The successful candidate will teach in and conduct research relevant to both departments; locus of tenure in Women's Studies with joint review committees. Send letter of application, c.v., and three letters of recommendation. Review of applications begins on February 1, 1997, and will continue until the position is filled. For more info, contact Dr. Mary Pardo, Chair, Women's Studies/Chicana Studies Search Committee, Women's History Project, 7738 Bell Road, Windsor, CA 95492-8518, or (707) 838-6000.

Asian American Studies/Asian American Community Studies and Urban Affairs, Assistant Professor, Tenure-Track, California State University, Northridge. Commencing Fall 1997, with primary interest in Asian American Community Studies and Urban Affairs, from disciplines such as Urban Anthropology, Sociology, Urban Planning, Demography, Economics, Criminal Justice, Communication Studies, Geography, Political Science, Contemporary History, Ethnic Studies, or Women's Studies. Send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, three letters of recommendation, evidence of teaching experience, publications or a recent writing sample, and syllabi of Asian American Studies courses taught or in planning. For more info, contact the department Chair, Search Committee, Asian American Studies Department, California State University, Northridge, 18111 Nordhoff Street, Northridge, CA 91330-8251.
Job Openings (Continued from page 5)

Women’s Studies, Assistant Professor, Tenure-Track, Fall 1997, California State University, Northridge. Expertise in feminist theory and methodology with an area focus in contemporary or historical study of U.S. women of color, Middle Eastern, or Asian women. Teaching: four-courses/term (3 or fewer preparations), lower and upper-division core as well as special topics courses. Letter of application, current curriculum vitae, at least three letters of recommendation, sample course syllabi, and copy of transcript. Review of applications begins on February 1, 1997 and will continue until the position is filled. For more info, contact the department Chair, Search Committee, Women’s Studies Department, California State University, Northridge, 18111 Nordhoff Street, Northridge, CA 91330-8251.

Graduate Student News

If you wrote to Lois Huneycutt for forms for the graduate student fellowship before October 15th, 1996 and your letter has not been answered, please re-submit your letter to her in care of the Department of History, 114A Read Hall, University of Missouri, Columbia, 65211, or call her at 573-882-5862. Two inquiries were lost due to theft of her briefcase on October 15th.

Lois L. Huneycutt

SPITHRA, The informational network

SPITHRA is for scholars who wish to locate matching paper proposals so that completed panels can be proposed to conference program committees. With or without a computer, you can enjoy the benefits of a computer-recorded network simply by filling out the following form and sending it to Emily Rader, 436 Lime Ave., #6 Long Beach, CA 90802-2678 or email the information to rader.scf.usc.edu To access SPITHRA, if you have a computer connected to a university computing system, log onto Gopher. You will then see: “Other Gopher Systems; there you will eventually find “University of So. California (USC). If you are not connected to a university system, log on to cwis.usc.edu; this will bring you to the Gopher menu. At USC Gopher, make the following menu choices: (1) #3 “University Information”; (2) #1, “Academic Departments”; (3) #15 “Social Sciences and Communications”; (4) #3, “History; and finally (5) #1, “SPITHRA”

Name ________________________________ Address ________________________________
City, state, zip ________________________________ FAX/e-mail: ________________________________
Telephone (daytime) ________________________________ evening: ________________________________
Region of interest (circle one): Africa Asia Europe Latin America Middle East No. America
Country in region ________________________________ Time period of interest ________________________________
Title or topic of proposed paper ________________________________

Willing to travel to conference to present papers? Yes No

[Co-sponsored by the Conference Group on Women’s History (CGWH), the Western Association of Women Historians (WAWH), and the Department of History, University of Southern California (USC).]
Member News - The Networker

Name, affiliation: ____________________________________________

Notice of publication or other member news:

(Use an additional sheet if necessary. Send to Jacqueline Braitman, 23250 Mariano Street, Woodland Hills, CA 91367) Send Membership inquiries & dues to Emily Rader, see below.

WAWH Executive Board, 1996-97

President
Susan Wladaver-Morgan
2513 N.E. Skidmore Street
Portland, OR 97211
(503) 282-9470
swladamar@aol.com

Past President, 1993-95
Marguerite Renner
775 N. Mentor Avenue
Pasadena, CA 91104
(818)791-8858
102364.247@compuserve.com

Graduate Student Representatives
Erika Bsumek
2149 Texas Street
Salt Lake City, UT 84109
(801)485-4431
erika.bsumek@u.cc.utah.edu

Secretary
Carol Gold
Dept of History, Univ of Alaska
Fairbanks, AK 99775
(907)474-6590 (w)
(907)479-4024
ftcg@aurora.alaska.edu

Past President, 1991-93
Karen Offen
Inst for Resrch Women & Gender
Stanford University
Stanford, CA 94305-8640
(415)851-1908
kmoffen@leland.stanford.edu

Katie Pearce-Sassen
577 7th Avenue
Salt Lake City, UT 84103
(801)332-3216
k.pearce-sassen@mc.utah.edu

Treasurer
Emily Rader
436 Lime Ave., #6
Long Beach, CA 90802
(310)495-2688
rader@scf.usc.edu

Social Action Committee
Chair
Regina Lark
20841 Stephanie Drive
Canoga Park, CA 91306
(818) 340-7444
lark@chaph.usc.edu

Sierra Book Prize
Chair: Dr. Angel Kwolek-Folland
Dept. of History, Univ. of Kansas
Lawrence, KS 66045

Past President, 1991-93
Sarah Stage, Women's Studies
Arizona St University, West
4701 West Thunderbird Road
Phoenix, AZ 85069
(602)543-3310
icajs@asuvm.inre.asu.edu

1997 Program Chair
Nupur Chaudhuri
1737 Vaughan Drive
Manhattan, KS 66502
(913) 539-2837
nupurcc@ksu.ksu.edu

Judith Lee Ridge Article Prize
Chair: Dr. Florence Baker
1256 Alameda Avenue
Glendale, CA 91201

Networker Editor
Jacqueline Braitman
23250 Mariano Street
Woodland Hills, CA 91367
(818)716-5760

Local Arrangements Chair
Barbara Sites
15061 Sherman Way #B
Van Nuys, CA 91405
(818) 376-1168

Barbara Penny Kauner Award
Chair: Dr. Candace Falk
912 Mendocino Ave
Berkeley, CA 94709.

Notice of publication or other member news:

Graduate Student Fellowship,
Chair: Dr. Louis Huneycutt
628 Huntridge Drive
Columbia, MO 65201

9

10
WESTERN ASSOCIATION OF WOMEN HISTORIANS
MEMBERSHIP FORM

Name ____________________________________________

Mailing Address (include. city, zip) ____________________________________________

Phone: (Work) ___________________________ (Home) ______________________________

e-mail address ____________________________________________ Internet or Bitnet (circle one)

Current Position and/or Affiliation ____________________________________________

Research and/or Teaching Fields ____________________________________________

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Membership Type</th>
<th>Amount</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Full-time Employed</td>
<td>$20</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Part-time/Retired</td>
<td>$15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Graduate Student/Independent Scholar</td>
<td>$8</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lifetime Membership</td>
<td>$400</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New 1996 WAWH Membership Directory</td>
<td>$5 (includes $2 postage)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

(Clip and send with your check made payable to WAWH: Carol Gold, Secretary, Department of History, University of Alaska, Fairbanks, AK 99775. email: ftcg@aurora.alaska.edu Reminder: Membership runs from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31. Membership dues are tax-deductible.)

Jacqueline R. Braitman
23250 Mariano Street
Woodland Hills, CA 91367

Lorrie O'Dell
1995
602 Calmar Avenue
Oakland, CA 94610

Western Association of Women Historians

HAPPY NEW YEAR!